

NATIONAL AFTERSCHOOL MATTERS INITIATIVE

Edmund A. Stanley, Jr. Research Grants

Request for Proposals

January, 2012 – December, 2012

Background/Goals

National Institute on Out-of-School Time on behalf of the Robert Bowne Foundation is pleased to announce the 2012 National Afterschool Matters Edmund A. Stanley, Jr. Research Grants. With generous funding from the Robert Bowne Foundation, it is distributing four $10,000 grants for research in the Out-of-School Time. The grant has the following goals:

1. Generate and disseminate research about community-based organizations serving youth during the out-of-school hours;
2. Build a network of scholars studying community based-organizations serving youth; and
3. Contribute to basic knowledge and the improvement of practice and policy in the area of youth programs during the out-of-school hours.

This is a national grant competition. Applicants do not have to be located in New York City, nor do they have to conduct research in or about New York City programs.

Four grants in the amount of $10,000 each will be awarded to support either

Original empirical research in or about community-based youth programs during the non-school hours;

Or

Research syntheses or policy analyses of community-based youth programs.

Grant focus

- Professional Development (pre-service or in-service) and its role in program quality improvement and/or youth outcomes;

- Content-based approaches to youth programming (i.e. STEM, English Language and Literacy, etc.) during the Out-of-School Time;
- Studies of Extended Time Learning (ELT): Successes, critical issues, challenges.
- Employment or Career-related topics – i.e., youth organizations as spaces for training on career or employment skills, youth as workers, community economic development and youth programs.

Note: Evaluations of individual youth programs will not be considered.

Criteria for Acceptance

1. Applicants must respond to the attached application form and respond to all questions. (Proposals should be no more than 2,000 words in length).
2. Applicants must be affiliated with a university or other not-for-profit IRS 501(c)3 organization.
3. Applicants must submit proposals no later than Friday, September 30th, 2011. Those accepted will be notified in December, 2011. The grant will be awarded in January 2012.

Funding & Documentation

Receipt of funding will be based upon submission of all required documentation, including an IRS 501(c)3 determination letter, project budget (Note: Overhead expenses charged should not exceed 2% of grant) and most recent audited organizational financial statement. Those awarded grants will be required to submit a brief interim report describing activities to date. The interim report form will be sent out in July 2012. A final paper must be received by the Foundation no later than December 30th, 2012.

The Robert Bowne Foundation National Afterschool Matters Initiative Edmund A. Stanley Jr. Research Grant will be stated as a source of support in documents and presentations resulting from this funded project. A final paper, in the form of an article or academic paper, will serve as the final document required by the grant. Papers issuing from this project may be posted on the NIOST or Robert Bowne Foundation website, or published in the journal, Afterschool Matters.
